The sinking of the RMS Lusitania is a significant event in history, particularly during World War I.

Background

- Ship Details: The RMS Lusitania was a British ocean liner owned by the Cunard Line. It was launched in 1906 and was known for its luxury and speed.
- Voyage: On May 7, 1915, the Lusitania was sailing from New York City to Liverpool, England.

The Sinking

- Attack: The Lusitania was torpedoed by a German U-boat, U-20, off the coast of Ireland. The attack occurred without warning, and the ship sank within 18 minutes.
- Casualties: Approximately 1,198 people lost their lives, including 128 Americans.

Impact

- Public Reaction: The sinking of the Lusitania caused outrage and significantly influenced public opinion against Germany.
- U.S. Involvement in WWI: The event contributed to the United States' decision to enter World War I two years later.

The sinking of the Lusitania remains a poignant reminder of the human cost of war and the impact of naval warfare on civilian lives. If you have any specific questions or need further details, feel free to ask!
